

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTION.

FOR many years previous to the establishment of the Manx Society, the Editor had been collecting from time to time such Works as related in any way to the Isle of Man, and making a list of the same. On the formation of the Society it was suggested that it would be very desirable if such could be brought before the members at some future day. The impression that such a work might be useful to those engaged in similar pursuits, has led to the compilation of the present volume. An obscure tract or scarce work no doubt may have here and there escaped the notice of the Editor, or not have been sufficiently described for want of the work to refer to, but it is presumed none of any great importance; and such omission will be the sooner pardoned when it is considered by those who can form an estimate of the labour and research required in the compilation of works of this description, and that the more readily when it is known there is no Public Library in the Island containing stores of this kind to which he could resort for reference, but had mainly to rely on the collections contained in his own library.

Some of the articles may appear too trivial to have been noticed, but everything to the Historian is of value, and everything requires his perusal; a date may be fixed or a fact established from a sermon, a report, or a lampoon. It is to be hoped that the new materials which the Manx Society has been the means of bringing before the public, will make the task of the future Historian of the Island less difficult by the very valuable documents which have for the first time been brought to light in their volumes.

The full title is described in most instances, thereby enabling the reader to learn what subjects are treated upon by the writer, with the date and place of publication. A few remarks and biographical notices are added, where any peculiarity or important information was thought requisite to be noticed. To have extended these would only have retarded the publication of the volume, and might not have increased its usefulness.

Some few notices of works in MS. are appended, but no doubt this might be considerably extended, as also notices of works where incidental remarks are made relative to the history, government, or customs of the Island, but these having been so fully given in Dr. Oliver's Monumenta, where he reprints the most important passages, it was considered only necessary to enumerate them. In the various pages of the Gentleman's and other Magazines may be found occasional remarks relative to the Island, some of which are noticed, also the publications of the Chetham Society, as well as other sources, all which may be added by any one wishful to extend the present list.

An Alphabetical Index is annexed, which it is hoped will be found sufficiently copious to answer all the purposes of reference, the value of which will be acknowledged by all who have experienced the want of one.

I have to express my thanks to Robt. J. Moore, Esq., High-Bailiff of Peel, for his readiness in answering enquiries, and constant access to the valuable and extensive collection of documents relating to the Island in his possession.

WILLIAM HARRISON.

A BIBLIOGRAPHICAL ACCOUNT OF WORKS

RELATING TO

THE ISLE OF MAN.

RALPH HIGDEN.—1482.

Higden's Polycronycon. Translated by John de Trevisa.

London : 1482.

Southwarke, hy me, Peter Trevereis, 1527.

Both editions in folio.

Isle of Man. Lib. 1., Cap. xv.

WM. CAMDEN.—1586.

Britannia, sive florentissimorum regnorum Angliæ, Scotiæ,
Hiberniæ, et insularum adjacentium, ex intima antiquitate chorographica descriptio.

Londini : 1586.

Folio.

This was the first edition, since which many others have appeared; the fourth, in 1594-1600; the last, corrected by the author, was published in 1607. There are two editions of a translation by Philemon Holland in 1610 and 1637, and three by Bishop Gibson in 1695 and 1722, in one vol., folio, and in 1772 in two vols., folio.

The Monks of Rushen Abbey wrote the three first sheets of the account of the Chronicles of Man up to the year 1270.* Bishop Merrick drew up the account of the sketch of the Isle of Man. He was Bishop from 1577 to 1600.

Wm. Camden was born in London, in 1551, and his mother was one of the family of Curwens, of Cumberland.

THOMAS DURHAM.—1595.

The Isle of Man exactly described and into several Parishes divided, with every Towne, Village, Baye, Creke, and River therein conteyned. The bordringe Coasts wherewith it is circulated in their situations sett and by the Compasse accordingly shewed, with their true distance from every place unto this Island, by severall scale observed. Described by Tho. Durham. Ano. 1595.

Large Folio.

The oldest Map of the Island. This shews the existence of lakes in the northern district. Mirescogh was the most important, and Thomas, Earl of Derby, made a grant of one-half of the fishery in it, to Huan Hesketh, Bishop of Man. On an island in this lake was a state prison.

* The latter portion, by another hand, continues the history down to 1316.

— HOOPER.—1608.

Survey of the Revenue, Farm Rents, &c., of the Isle of Man.

By Mr. Hooper, commissioner appointed by the Lords Salisbury and Northampton in 1608. Rents were first established here in 1505.

A MS. copy is in possession of M. H. Quayle, Esq., Clerk of the Rolls.

JOHN SPEED.—1610.

The Isle of Man exactly described, &c. Performed by John Speed. Anno 1610.

Speed copied his Map from Thomas Durham's, of 1595.

JOHN SELDEN.—1614.

Titles of Honor, by John Selden. Lucilius, Persium non curo legere; Lelium decimum volo.

London: By William Stansby for John Helme, and are to be sold at his Shop in St. Dunstan's Churchyard. 1614.

4to. p. 391.

"Of the Title of Kings, as it is subordinate in subject Princes with some particulars of the kingdom of the Isle of Man."

A second edition, with additions, in folio, was published in 1631, and a third in 1672. The latter is considered the best edition.

PETER HEYLYN, D.D.—1641.

A Help to English History, containing a succession of all the Kings of England, the English, Saxons, and the Britains; the Kings and Princes of Wales, the Kings and Lords of Man and the Isle of Wight; as also of all the Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, and Bishops thereof; with the descriptions of the places from whence they had their Titles; together with the Names and Ranks of the Viscounts, Barons, and Baronets of England. By Robert Hall, Gent.

Printed at London. 1641.

12mo., pp. 379.

This was compiled by Dr. Heylyn, under the assumed name of Robt. Hall. The second edition was published in 1652. Other editions appeared after Dr. Heylyn's death, continued by various hands, in 1671, 1680, 1709, and 1773. The latter contains many additions.

. 1649.

A Message sent from the Earl of Derby, Governor of the Isle of Man, to his dread Sovereign Charles II., King of Scotland, &c. And his Lordship's Declaration to his Majesty concerning the Treaty, and Major-General Ireton, &c.

Printed at York, and reprinted for W. R.

4to.

Concerning the Parliament's attempted treaty with the Earl, respecting a surrender of the Island to them, in consideration of taking off the sequestration of his estates, and his celebrated indignant reply to Commissary-General Ireton, dated July 12, which has been often printed.

. 1649.

A Declaration of the Right Honourable James Earl of Derby, Lord Stanley, Strange of Knockin and of the Isle of Man, concerning his resolution to keep the Isle of Man, for his Majesties Service, against all force whatsoever. Together with his Lordship's letter in answer to Commissary-General Ireton.

London: 1649.

4to., pp. 8.

This Declaration bears date July 18th as the composition of Lord Derby. Sir Marmaduke Langdale and Sir Lewis Dives were commissioned by King Charles II. (June 5th) to repair to the Isle of Man and assist the Earl in keeping the same, both "by counsell and personal service." They arrived two days after the letter had been written to Ireton, and advised the Earl to publish his declaration of July 18, and which was considered by them to be a "meer fiction" and "no whit the sence of Derby." On this account they published their declaration, highly complimentary to the Earl.

. 1649.

A Declaration of the Noble Knights Sir Marmaduke Langdale and Sir Lewis Dives, in vindication of the Right Honourable James, Earl of Derby, and remonstrating their resolutions to keep the Isle of Man against all opposition in his Majesty's service, August the 5th, 1649.

London: Printed in the year 1649.

4to.

SIR W. DUGDALE AND R. DODSWORTH—1656-61-73.

Monasticon Anglicanum, a History of the Abbeyes, and other Monasteries, Friars, Cathedral, and Collegiate Churches in England and Wales. Plates by Hollar and King.

Folio. 3 vols.

Bishop Simon, in 1229, published the Statutes of the Constitution of the Diocese of Sodor, in the Isle of Man, which are printed in Vol. I., p. 711-12.

An edition in 1718-23, with additions. A greatly-enlarged edition, edited by Caley, Ellis, and Bandinel, in 8 folio volumes.

London: 1817-46.

JAMES CHALONER.—1656.

The Vale Royall of England, or the County Palatine of Chester, Illustrated. Wherein is contained a Geographical and Historical Description of that famous County, with all its Hundreds and Seats of the Nobility, Gentry, and Freeholders: its Rivers, Towns, Castles, Buildings, ancient and modern, adorned with Maps and Prospects and the Coats of Arms belonging to every individual Family of the whole County. Performed by Wm. Smith and Wm. Webb, Gentlemen. Published by Mr. Daniel King. To which is annexed an exact Chronology of all its Rulers and Governors both in Church and State, from the time of the Foundation of the stately City of Chester to this very day: Fixed by Eclipses, and other Chronological Characters. Also an excellent Discourse of the Island of Man; treating of the Island; of the Inhabitants; of the State ecclesiastical; of the Civil Government; of the Trade; and of the Strength of the Island.

London: Printed by John Streater, in Little S. Bartholomews, and are to be sold at the Black Spread Eagle, at the West End of Paul's. 1656.

Small folio.

The portion relating to the Isle of Man has a separate title, as follows:—

A Short Treatise of the Isle of Man. Digested into six Chapters. Containing, I. A Description of the Island. II. Of the Inhabitants. III. Of the state Ecclesiasticall. IV. Of the Civill Government. V. Of the Trade. VI. Of the Strength of the Island. Illustrated with severall Prospects of the Island. By Daniel King.

London: Printed by John Streater, 1656.

This Treatise is written by James Chaloner, and dedicated "For His Excellencie, Thomas Lord Fairfax, Lord of Man and of the Isles," and dated "Middle Park, December 1, 1653." 3 pp. The Island described p. 1 to 33. There is a Map of the Island, with eight small Views on the sides, Arms of the Island and Lord Fairfax; two Plates with each three Views, and a Plate with three Coats of Arms.

Lord Fairfax made Commissioners for the governing of the Isle in 1652 (Aug. 17th), James Chaloner and Robt. Dynely, Esqrs., and Mr. Joshua Witton, Minister of the Gospel.

James Chaloner was also Governor from 1658 to 1660, and was one of the Judges of Charles I. He was the fourth son of Sir Thomas Chaloner, of Gisborough, in the County of York, and married Ursula Fairfax, by whom he had one son, Edmund Chaloner, born in 1635, and three daughters. He died in 1660.

In Gough's History of the People called Quakers, Dublin, 1789, is the following note:—"This James Challoner had been a member of the Long Parliament, and after the King's return had been sent for to London, in order, as was thought, to be tried among the regicides. The day he was to go he took something under pretext of physick, which killed him in a short time.”

 “He had been a violent persecutor, and was heard to say, a little before his death, that he would quickly rid the Island of Quakers.”

. 1658.

Map of the Isle of Man. Published at Amsterdam. Forming part of Bleau's Atlas. This is Thomas Durham's.

WM. CHRISTIAN.—1663.

Judgment of the King in Council in William Christian's Case.
 Ordered to be printed in folio, as Acts of Parliament are, 14th August.

William Christian was executed at Hango Hill, 2nd January, 1663.

A Memoir of his Life, with full particulars of his Trial, from the documents in the Rolls Office, would form a very acceptable volume, and it is to be hoped the Manx Society will be able to accomplish this. He has been by various writers represented as a martyr and a traitor: the latter, I fear, is too true. By the Manx he is called “Illiam Dhone,”—Fair-haired William. He was buried in the Chancel of Kirk Malew.

PETER HEYLYN; D.D.—1671.

A Help to English History, containing a succession of all the Kings of England, the English-Saxons, and the Britains: the Kings and Princes of Wales, the Kings and Lords of Man, the Isle of Wight. As also of all the Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, and Bishops thereof. With the description of the places from whence they had their titles; together with the Names and Ranks of the Viscounts, Barons, and Baronets of England. By P. Heylyn, D.D. And since his death, continued to this present year, 1671, with the Coats of Arms of the Nobility, blazoned.

London: Printed by E. Leach for T. Basset, at the George, in Fleet Street, and Chr. Wilkinson, at the Black Boy, over against St. Dunstan's Church, 1671.

12mo., pp. 557. Preface, pp. 6. "Kings and Lords of Man," p. 43 to 46. "Bishops of Man," p. 182 to 184.

The list of Kings, &c., commences with Godred, the son of Syrric, in 1065, and ends with "Charles Stanley, Earl of Derby and Lord of Man, now living, 1670."

The Bishops of Man—Amphibalus, first Bishop of Man, A.C. 360, and ends with Bishop Barrow.

CHRISTOPHER IRVINE.—1682.

Historiæ Scoticæ Nomenclatura.

Edinbro'.

It states the Isle of Man to have been of much larger dimensions than at present.

G. GUL. LIEBNITZ.—1693.

Codex juris Gentium Diplomaticus.

Hanoveræ. Folio.

The Act of Surrender made by Reginald to the See of Rome, 10th of October, 1219, p. 5.

This is also printed in Seacome's History of the House of Stanley, p. 515, and Train's History, vol. I., p. 135.

BISHOP WILSON.—1699.

The Principles and Duties of Christians.

This is said to be the first work printed in the Manx language.

Chaloner states the Book of Common Prayer was translated into Manx by Bishop Philips in 1605, but it appears doubtful if this was ever printed. In the report of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, for 1764, May 4th, p. 115, they state it "never appeared."

WM. SACHEVERELL.—1702.

An Account of the Isle of Man, its Inhabitants, Language, Soil, Remarkable Curiosities, the Succession of its Kings and Bishops down to the present time, by way of Essay, with a Voyage to I-Columb-kill. By William Sacheverell, Esq., late Governor of Man; to which is added a Dissertation about the Mona of Cæsar and Tacitus; and an account of the Ancient Druids, &c. By Mr. Thomas Brown, addressed in a letter to his learned friend Mr. A. Sellars.

London: Printed for J. Hartley, next the King's Head Tavern; R. Gibson, in the Middle Row; and Thos. Hodgson, over against Gray's Inn Gate, in Holborn, 1702.

Sm. 8vo., pp. 175, dedicated "to Robert Sacheverell, Esq., of Barton, in Nottinghamshire," 4 pp.; Preface, 2 pp.; the Introduction, 7 pp.; Isle of Man, p. 1 to 122; Voyage to I-Columb-kill, p. 123 to 144; Dissertation on Mona, p. 145 to 175.

William Sacheverell was Governor of the Isle of Man in 1692, and from the following letter, published in the "Norris Papers," by the Chetham Society, 1846, appears to have been dismissed from the Governorship of the Isle:—

Mr. Richard Norrys, Liverpool.

Dear Mr. Norrys,—I am extremely obliged to you for your great care and trouble in assisting my wife in her passage hither, which, as it was a great comfort to me, so I doubt will be very short, for I hear I am out of my imployment after all my care and diligence. All I can say is, I have served an unthankfull man, and I doubt it will turn very much to my prejudis; but God's will be done. I cannot yet leave the Island myself, but would have her goe for England, but she resolves to stay a winter with me. I desire my service to your brother when you see him. Pray remember me to Mr. Cooke and Mr. Holt, and believe me, &c.,

WM. SACHEVERELL.

Castle Rushen, 15th August, 1694.

A reprint of this edition forms the first volume of the Manx Society's Publications and has been most ably edited by the Rev. J. G. Cumming, M.A., with numerous valuable notes.

M. MARTIN.—1703.

A Description of the Western Islands of Scotland, &c. By M. Martin, Gent.

London: Printed for Andrew Bell, at the Cross Keys and Bible, in Cornhill, near Stock's Market, 1703.

8vo., pp. 392.

The only distinct references to the Isle of Man are in the description of Iona, p. 257, and in the account of the instances of Second Sight, p. 313.

Many of the old customs and strange superstitions described in this curious book, as prevailing in the Western Isles of Scotland, are similar to those formerly existing in the Isle of Man.

An edition, 8vo. London: 1716, p. 119.

T. RYMER.—1704-17.

Fœdera, Conventiones, Litteræ et Acta Publica, inter Reges Anglia et alios Imperatores, &c.

London: 15 vols., folio.

Vol. I., p. 137. A.D. 1205. Time of King John. Vol. I., p. 342.

Under date 1246 is a safe conduct from Hen. III. for Harald, King of Man. Also, for Reginald, in 1249. Vol. I., p. 451 and p. 489. Vol. I., p. 536, respecting the Murder of Reginald, second son of Olave II.

Vol. II., p. 492. The Men of the Isle of Man place themselves under the protection of King Edward I., 1290, by which the Manx people cancelled all previous engagements betwixt themselves and their Norwegian Rulers, under a penalty of two thousand pounds of silver.

This interesting document is reprinted in the Manx Society's first volume, in note, p. 152-3.

Vol. II., p. 1053-35. Ed. I., Anno 1307. A Scire Facias, to Anthony Beck, Bishop of Durham, to shew cause why he should not render the Isle of Man. This is also printed with a translation in the Manx Society's first vol., p. 157-8.

Vol. III., p. 223-238. In 1310 Gilbert De M'Gaskill is mentioned as having custody of the Isle of Man under Anthony De Beck.

Vol. IV., p. 562. Grant of Isle of Man to Sir Wm. Montacute, first Earl of Salisbury, by Edward III. Anno 1333. In the Manx Society's first vol., p. 170.

Vol. IV., p. 574. Anno 7. Ed. III., 1333. Grant of Isle of Man to the same, with all rights and claims.

Vol. V., p. 558. .

Vol. VIII., p. 95. Anno 1399. Hen. IV., p. 410. Concerning the Grant of the Isle of Man.

THOMAS BROWN.—1707.

A Short Dissertation about the Mona of Cæsar and Tacitus, the several names of Man, whether it was the principal Seat of the Ancient Druids, &c.; together with a short Account of the Institution, Discipline, and Opinions of the Druids. By Mr. Thomas Brown.

London: 1707.

Sm. 8vo.

This appeared at the end of Sacheverell's Account of the Isle of Man in 1702.

Mr. Brown considers that Cæsar alluded to the Isle of Man in his Account, though he never visited it, and Tacitus the Isle of Anglesea, and that the Isle of Man was not likely to be the head quarters of the Druids, as they were more calculated for a stirring active life.

— LHUYD.—1707.

Archæologia Britannica, an Account of the Languages, Histories, and Customs of the original Inhabitants of Great Britain.

Oxford: 1707.

Folio.

This valuable work comprises a comparative Etymology, an Armoric Grammar and Vocabulary, Cornish Grammar, British Etymologicon, Irish-English Dictionary, Catalogue of Irish MSS., Account of the Manx language, &c., &c.

No more was ever published. It contains: I. Comparative Etymology—II. Comparative Vocabulary of the Original Languages of Britain and Ireland—III. and IV. An Armoric Grammar and Vocabulary by Julian Manoir, Englished by M. Williams—V. Welsh words omitted in Dr. Davies's Dictionary—VI. Cornish Grammar—VII. Antiqua Britanniae Lingua Scriptorum, quæ non impressa sunt Catalogus.—VIII. A British Etymologicon, or the Welsh collated with the Greek and Latin, and some other European languages by D. Parry.—IX. A brief Introduction to the Irish or ancient Scottish language.—X. Focloir; an Irish-English Dictionary.—XI. Catalogue of Irish MSS.

JOHN LE NEVE.—1716.

Fasti Ecclesie Anglicanæ: or an Essay towards deducing a regular succession of all the principal dignities in each Cathedral, Collegiate Church or Chapel (now in being) in those parts of Great Britain called England and Wales, from the first erection thereof, to this present year, 1715. Containing the Names, Dates of Consecration, Admission, Preferment, Removal, or Death of the Archbishops, Bishops, Deans, Præcentors, Treasurers, Chancellors, and Archdeacons in their several Stations and Degrees, &c., &c. Attempted by John Le Neve, Gent., late Fellow Commoner of Trinity College, in Cambridge.

In the Savoy: Printed by J. Nutt, &c., MDCCXVI.

Folio, pp. 535.

Sodor or the Isle of Man, p. 356 to 359, commences with A.D. 360 Amphibalus. 447 Germanus, and ends with 1697. Thomas Wilson.

BISHOP WILSON.—1721.

A farther Instruction for such as have learned the Church Catechism, and plain short Directions and Prayers. By Thomas, Lord Bishop of Man.

London: 1721.

24mo.

. 1726.

An Act enabling the Lords of the Treasury to Purchase from James, Earl of Derby, the Isle of Man.

Folio. 12th George I.

. 1727.

An Act passed and power given to those entitled to the Island, and to the Trustees of Henrietta Bridgett Ashburnham, an Infant, to sell, and for the Treasury to purchase, their Rights and Interests in and over the Isle of Man.

Folio.

BROWN WILLIS.—1727.

A Survey of the Cathedrals of York, Durham, Carlisle, Chester, Man, Lichfield, Hereford, Worcester, Gloucester, and Bristol, &c. By Brown Willis.

London: 1727.

2 vols., 4to.

✓ A third Vol., in 1730, including four other Sees.

Diocese of Man—Vol. I., p. 369-380.

Vol. II., p. 817-821.

An edition published in 1742.

GEORGE WALDRON.—1731.

The complat Works in Verse and Prose of George Waldron, Gent., late of Queen's College.

Oxon: Printed for the Widow and Orphans, MDCCXXXI.
(Price 2 gs.) Folio.

The portion relating to the Isle of Man commences—

“A Description of the Isle of Man, with some useful and entertaining reflections on the Laws, Customs, and Manners of its Inhabitants.” pp. 91 to 191.

“The great many leisure hours he had in the Isle of Man, where for some years he resided, in a post under his late and present Majesty, gave him an opportunity of writing a description of that place, with the customs and manners of the inhabitants, in a much more particular manner than any author before him has done. Most of those who treat on that subject have contented themselves with barely mentioning the situation, soil, produce, chief towns, and markets, whereas the chief curiosities consist in tradition, and a superstitious observance of old customs.”—(Fide Preface.)

Only 110 copies of this work were printed. Mr. Waldron resided on the Island in the capacity of a commissioner from the British Government. He was a gentleman of an ancient family in Essex, and received his education at Queen’s College, in Oxford, and died in England just after he had obtained a new deputation from the Government.

The volume is dedicated “To the Right Honourable William O’Brian, Earl of Inchiquin,” and signed “Theodosia Waldron.”
 ~ The History of the Isle of Man is said to have been printed in 1726, 12mo., but I have not met with a copy. It was, however, written in that year.

. 1732.

The Independent Whig; or, a Defence of Primitive Christianity, and of our Ecclesiastical Establishment against the Exorbitant Claims and Encroachments of Fantastical and Disaffected Clergymen.

The fifth edition, with additions and amendments. In two volumes.

London: Printed for J. Peele, at Luke's Head, in Amen Corner, Paternoster Row, and sold by J. Osborn, at Dock Head, near Rotherhith, MDCCXXXII.

Sm. 8vo.

In Vol. I., p. xxxvii to lxxxi is a letter to the publisher, signed W. A., Dec. 14th, 1731, detailing the whole of the Particulars of Bishop Wilson's mandate against the introduction of this Work in the Isle of Man.

The sixth edition was published in the same year, in one volume.

Many other editions were published, but the only interest the work possesses relative to the Island, is Bishop Wilson's order for its seizure wherever found.

FRANCIS PECK.—1732-5.—JAMES, SEVENTH EARL OF DERBY.

Desiderata Curiosa; or, a collection of divers scarce and curious Pieces (relating chiefly to matters of English History), in six books, containing upwards of one hundred and sixty choice Tracts, Memoirs, Letters, Wills, Epitaphs, &c., transcribed, many of them from the originals themselves, the rest from divers ancient MS. copies, or the MS. collections of sundry famous Antiquaries and other eminent Persons, both of the last and present age: the whole, as near as possible, digested into an order of time, and illustrated with ample Notes, Contents, additional Discourses, and a complete Index. British Liberty in Chains, and England's Ruin on the Anvil, in the Isle of Man, now commonly called Little France, addressed to all Free Britons, zealous for the glory of the King, the Liberties of the People, and safety of the Realm; especially to the laudable Association of Antigallicans. By John Baldwin, Esq.

"Truth is bolder than a Lion,
Will ever stand upright and unshaken,
For God himself is truth.
Who, then, are they that durst oppose it?"

"With Her there is no receiving of Persons nor Difference; but she doth the things which are just, and abstaineth from unjust and wicked things, and all good men favour her works: neither is there any unjust thing in her judgment; and she is the Strength, and the Kingdom, and the Power and Majesty of all ages. This Memoir was reprinted by the Percy Society in 1845. This pamphlet is referred to in the Gentleman's Magazine for March, 1760, p. 110; with an Account of the Action with Captain Elliot, who brought his prize into Ramsey Bay and gave a Ball on board his frigate "The Æolus," to the principal inhabitants and strangers. This action between Elliot and Thurot became the subject of two pictures, painted by Wright, of Liverpool, and have been engraved. Some relics of Thurot still exist, I believe, at Bishop's Court.

An edition in 1765.

This was the first edition, and only a few copies were supplied to the Clergy, with a request "that they would insert freely their remarks on the blank pages, as the best method that can be proposed for furnishing from the whole, one correct edition." I have only met with a very few of these earlier editions of the Scriptures translated into the Manx Language, but prior to this the Manx were probably the only Christian Church in the world, which were absolutely destitute of a printed Copy of the Holy Scriptures in the vulgar tongue. This was afterwards amply supplied under the auspices of the Society for promoting Christian Knowledge. For a full account of the progress of these Translations, vide Appendix to the Memoirs of Bishop Hildesley, by the Rev. W. Butler, 1799, p. 211-260, for "Narrative of the origin, progress, and completion of the Manx Version of Holy Scripture, and other religious Books, for the use of the native Inhabitants of the Isle of Mann."

This is Seacome's History, without name, dedication, or preface, and otherwise curtailed. The first edition was published without date, but the work was completed in 1741. He has borrowed largely from Sacheverell, in his Description of the Isle of Man, but furnishes other valuable information. He had the use of Bishop Rutter's papers, "The historian of the family," and most probably these papers are now in the archives at Knowsley, and would be well worth examination by the Manx Society. There is a Portrait of Bishop Rutter, at Knowsley, as Archdeacon of Man.

Two vols., 8vo.

A few Copies, in 4to, in one vol., for the use of the Clergy.

It was first printed in this year under the auspices of Bishop Hildesley, who received the last portion of it on Saturday, Nov. 28th, 1772, and died on the 7th December following. The printing of this Manx version of the Holy Scriptures had been a work of great labour, and the latter portion was attended with an accident which had almost proved fatal to the good work. The Rev. Dr. Kelly, author of The Manx Grammar, already published by the Manx Society, was, on the 19th March, 1771, on his way from the Island to Whitehaven, with a portion of the MS. from Deuteronomy to Job, shipwrecked in a storm, when, "with no small difficulty and danger the MS. was preserved by holding it above the water for the space of five hours, and this was almost the only article saved." The Rev. Dr. Kelly transcribed the whole of the Old Testament, besides the corrected edition of the New Testament and Prayer Book. The names of the various Translators will be found in Butler's Life of Bishop Hildesley, p. 252.

An edition in 8vo. Whitehaven: 1775. Also distributed by the Society for promoting Christian Knowledge.

The Report is addressed "To the Honourable Richard Dawson, Esq., His Majesty's Lieutenant-Governor of the Isle of Man," and signed by "John Quayle, Thos. Moore, Wadsworth Busk, 27 April, 1780." to which are added further remarks dated "February 12th, 1781." This is a report on a Bill to amend an Act commonly called the "Vesting Act," and contains many curious particulars respecting the manners, customs, and laws of the Island. £350,000 per Annum was at "the Vesting" conceived to be acquired to the Public by the Resumption that was made. A tolerably good bargain forced by the Crown from the Duke of Atholl.

NATHANIEL JEFFERYS.—No date.—[1809.] (Mr. Bell.)

A Descriptive and Historical Account of the Isle of Man ; with a view of its Society, Manners, and Customs ; partly compiled from various authorities, and from observations made in a Tour through the Island, in the summer of 1808. Dedicated to his Majesty, by Nathaniel Jefferys, formerly representative in Parliament for the city of Coventry. To which is added a Map of the Isle of Man, with the roads described, and every information necessary to the convenience of the Pleasurable and Commercial Traveller. Also, a short account of the Towns of Whitehaven and Workington, with the fashionable Bathing Places of Allonby and Skinburness, on the coast of Cumberland, and the entrance to Scotland across the Solway Frith.

Newcastle-upon-Tyne : Printed for the Author, by Preston and Heaton ; and sold by R. Miller, Bookseller, Mosley Street, and all other Booksellers in the United Kingdom. (Price 8s.)

Small 8vo., pp. 200. Dedication "To the King," p. III to VIII. Preface, p. IX. to XXXVIII.

George Woods observes in the preface to his Account of the Isle of Man (1811) that he considers as is stated, to be "a sort of literary license for picking and stealing," and "The authorities of the Jeweller to the Prince of Wales appear to have been Robertson and Feltham. Had the treatise been valuable, it would have checked my own presumption. The period of ten or fourteen years makes considerable alteration in the appearance of an improving country; and the author has not been careful to separate what continues to be true from that which is so no longer."

Mr. Jefferys was Jeweller to the Prince of Wales (George 4th), against whom he had a claim for nearly £100,000 for Jewels, about 1806. Nineteen pages of the Preface relate to these transactions with the Prince and to his publications connected therewith.

Mr. Bell, of Gateshead, wrote the Account of the Isle of Man in Jefferys' parlour, and the latter put the Preface to it.

N. JEFFEYS.—1809. (Mr. Bell.)

The same Title, but without the Author's name and the date inserted.

In the Preface, at p. 21 to 38 is the Manx Magna Charta, instead of the Matters relating to the Prince of Wales. The History, p. 39 to 200.

Case of Major-General William Stapleton on the Investigation ordered by his Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, into the Charges preferred by General

Stapleton, against his Honor John Lace, Esq., his Majesty's First Deemster in the Isle of Man.

No place or date on Title.

8vo., pp. 30.

Dated "21st October, 1809."

Case arose in consequence of an affray at the Theatre, in Douglas, caused by Major-General Stapleton, having in a mere frolic pushed a Mr. Johnson forward on the stage, when the General and Sir John Piers and Captain Edwards were summoned to appear in the Deemster's Court in Castle Rushen, when Deemster Lace reflected on the character of General Stapleton. Memorial and correspondence of the transaction.

An accurate, interesting, and peculiarly entertaining Description of that lucrative branch of business the Herring Fishery of the Isle of Man, which affords Employment for more than three months every year to above Five thousand poor people, to a number of Coopers all the year round, and to a variety of other crafts periodically. Of the Superior Quality of the Red Herrings manufactured in Douglas, as well as that of the Pickled Herrings, in a comparative point of view with all such as are caught and cured elsewhere. Of the various curious modes of preparing these Monarchs of the Finny Tribe, throughout the Island in their fresh state, for immediate consumption, and also the several amusing ways of making use of Pickled Herrings. A particular and very pleasing account of the flourishing Town of Douglas, which has been long considered as the Emporium of the Island with regard to Commerce; comprising its present state, its commodious Quay and Harbour, its new Streets, the many genteel Houses built in the Modern Taste in many of the old Streets, the several places of Public Worship, the grand new Public Library, the famous new Charity School, the large new Poor House, &c. Likewise a List of the several Packets and constant Traders and a correct abstract of the British Act of Parliament passed in July, 1814, repealing the old Harbour Dues of the Island and substituting new ones in Lieu thereof, on the Fishing Boats and on all British and Foreign Vessels not only entering its Harbours but even anchoring in its Bays; also the Duties payable on every kind of Merchandize imported into the Island. To all which is added, a very curious, descriptive, entertaining and picturesque view of the much admired Seats and Estates of the Nobility and Gentry in the Vicinity of the Town. Humbly inscribed to His Excellency the most noble John, Duke of Atholl, Governor-in-Chief and Captain General of the Island. By Thomas Callister. Price only one shilling and six pence British. 1815.

Howard's Vade Mecum or Tourist's Companion from Manchester (by the Railway) to Liverpool, and thence through to the Isle of Man. Together with a Map of the Island. Dedicated by permission to Sir George Drinkwater, Knt. Price 2s. 6d.

Sold by Worrall & Taylor, Clarendon Buildings, and Mr. Clement, Artist, Bold-street, Liverpool.

On a sheet in a case. Date on the Map 1830. Published by Quiggin, Douglas.

Mr. Howard issued proposals for publishing a work on the Island, and obtained upwards of 500 subscribers to it, but the MS. was by some means lost and the work never appeared. The following advertisement was issued:—"15 Sept, 1828. By Particular Desire, and with high and extensive Patronage, will be published in the shape of a small octavo, a Work, by T. Howard, Esquire, to be entitled An 18 Years' Residence on the Isle of Man. The work is intended to convey, in a manner and style as pleasing and agreeable as possible, correct information on those subjects connected with the Island which must be equally useful to Strangers and Native Residents, whether men of business or pleasure. The work will comprise also, the most active and eventful period of the Author's Life; noticing in a particular manner the many advantages and disadvantages resulting from a married life; also, every vicissitude likely to amuse or instruct will be carefully narrated, without the slightest intention to outrage the feelings of the scrupulous or wound the keen sensibility of the delicate. The author, solicitous only to please, will, without regard to rank or station, insert every biographical incident that may appear worthy of notice. A very few highly finished sketches of the most interesting views and scenery will be included in the work."

The original subscription book, in the autograph of almost every respectable inhabitant of the Island, is in my possession. Mr. Howard was well known under the cognomen of "The Duke of Norfolk." His portrait was published in 1834.

EDWARD TAGART.—1832.

A Memoir of the late Captain Peter Heywood, R.N., with Extracts from his Diaries and Correspondence. By Edward Tagart.

London: Published by Effingham Wilson, Royal Exchange. 1832.

8vo.

Preface and Contents, pp. viii; Memoir, pp. 332.

This is the Memoir of a Native of the Isle of Man, who was born at the Nunnery on the 6th June, 1773, his father being a Deemster of the Island. He was an officer on board the Bounty, when a portion of the crew mutinied, on the 28th of April, 1789, and for which he was afterwards tried. The letters of this truly honourable young officer are well worthy of perusal; and those of his warmly attached sister, Nessy Heywood, dated from the Isle of Man, breathe the most heroic devotion and affection for her brother, seldom if ever to be met with. He died on the 10th of February, 1831.

ARCHIBALD CREGEEN.—1835.

A Dictionary of the Manx Language, with the corresponding Words or Explanations in English; interspersed with many Gaelic Proverbs: the Parts of Speech, the Genders, and the Accents of the Manx Words are carefully marked; with some etymological observations never before published. By Archibald Cregeen, Arbory, Isle of Man.

“Ballyn dy loayragh shiu ooilley lish glaraghyn, &c.—St. Paul;
1 Cor. xiv. 5.

Douglas: Printed and Published for the Author by J. Quiggin, North Quay: Whittaker, Treacher, and Arnot, London; Evans, Chegwin, and Hall, Liverpool. MDCCCXXXV.

8vo., pp. 188.

The Author died before he could complete the Second Part, the English and Manx. There is a valuable Introduction to the Manx Language, preceding the Dictionary, giving an idea of the construction of the Language and forming the outlines of a Manks Grammar. The Author observes, "It appears like a piece of exquisite net work interwoven together in a masterly manner, and framed by the hand of a most skilful workman, equal to the composition of the most learned, and not the production of chance. The depth of meaning that abounds in many of the words must be conspicuous to every person versed in the Language." It is dated "Kirk Arbory, 5th June, 1834." According to a list at the end, 418 copies were subscribed for. The Author of this Account purchased the sheets left on hand, from which some Copies were afterwards made up; some little difference is observable, arising from the few sheets reprinted being in a larger type, when some few words were unavoidably omitted. Mr. George Borrow, the Author of "The Bible in Spain" and other Works, and who for some time resided in the Island collecting its Legendary fragments, remarked that "he revered the very ground upon which Cregeen had trod, because he was one of the greatest natural Celtic scholars who had ever lived."

EDWARD FORBES.—1838.

Malacologia Monensis. A Catalogue of the Mollusca inhabiting the Isle of Man and the neighbouring sea. By Edward Forbes, For. Sec. B. S. President of the Royal Physical Society.

Edinburgh: John Carfrae and Son; Longman, Orme, Brown, Green, and Longmans, London. 1838.

12mo., pp. 63. Dedication, preface, &c., pp. xii. 3 plates.

Professor Forbes was a native of the Isle of Man, and one whom the Island was justly proud of. In the preface he states that he had been "induced for some time back to collect materials for the Natural History of that Island, both its Fauna and its Flora. These I propose publishing in the form of catalogues, and commence with the Mollusca, that class being first completed." I am not aware that he continued these catalogues. He was interred in the Cemetery at Dean Bridge, Edinburgh, and on a granite obelisk is the following inscription:—

EDWARD FORBES,
NATURALIST:
BORN FEBRUARY 12, 1815,
DIED NOVEMBER 18, 1854.

and all the Members of the Reform Association."

The Author should have followed what he so much admires in Mr. Bluett's letters, "The avoidance of all personality and low abuse." The matter of Miss Ritchie has nothing whatever to do with the "Constitution of the House of Keys." The two pages at the end would have been much better left out of his "Touchstone."

JOSEPH TRAIN, F.S.A. Scot.—1845.

Fcp. 8vo., pp. 17.

The work is inscribed "To Oberon and Titania, King and Queen of Fairies, and the whole Fairy Court, dwelling in the Greater Mona, I dedicate this little Tract on the Popular Rhymes, Proverbs, Sayings, &c., &c., &c., of their native Ysle." Dated at the end, "P.B. n'r. D. in com. Dunelm. Oct. MDCCCL. M.A.D."

This brochure was edited by Mr. M. Aislavie Denham, of Piercebridge, near Darlington, and 50 copies only struck off for private distribution. The matter was chiefly supplied him by the Author, with other remarks on the popular rhymes and customs of the Isle of Man, at the time Mr. Denham was printing similar tracts connected with the northern counties of England. These are all now, from the few copies printed, become very scarce. Mr. Denham died on the 10th September, 1859.

Mona's Isle, and other Poems. By T. J. Ouseley.

"I see the Deep's untrampled floor,
 With green and purple sea weeds strown;
 I see the waves upon the shore,
 Like light dissolved in star showers, thrown:
 I sit upon the sands alone,
 The lightning of the noon-tide ocean
 Is flashing round me, and a tone
 Arises from its measured motion,
 How sweet! did any heart now share in my emotion."

The scene of this novel will be recognized by many as relating to the Isle of Man. The adventure at the Stack is one of the most thrilling description. Mr. Farrar was a pupil at King William's College, and it is only justice to him to reprint the following letter, which appeared in one of the insular papers soon after the publication of Eric:—

HARROW, APRIL 18TH, 1859.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE MANX SUN,

SIR,—I have heard with surprise and regret that some persons who entertain unkindly feelings towards King William's College, have taken the opportunity to attribute to that institution a state of things described in a recent story called Eric, or Little by Little. Now, Sir, had I for a moment anticipated such a result, I have no hesitation in saying that I should never have suffered the book to appear in its present shape. To avoid, as I hoped, the possibility of a consequence so much to be deprecated, I placed in the preface an emphatic disclaimer of all intention to identify Roslyn with any existing school; and I took the same opportunity to express with all humility a grateful appreciation of past kindnesses which I have received from the valued friends who are connected with King William's College. It is true that the scenery of the tale was taken from my own happy and vivid boyish reminiscences of your Island. It was a pleasure to reproduce the undimmed sensations which your seas and rocks had excited; but if by this innocent indulgence of happy memories I have done unwitting injury to a school for which I have quite recently testified my strong regard, I shall be deeply and sincerely pained. Will you then allow me, thus publicly, to re-affirm (I hope finally,) that Roslyn "was in no way intended to be a picture of King William's College;" that the incidents of Eric, so far as they are real and not imaginary, are derived from many sources; and that I asserted the truthfulness of the book as a whole, not because I was painting the scene of my own education, but because I have had subsequent opportunities of seeing many of the most famous English schools, and forming an opinion of their temptations and advantages, my impressions of which I was desirous to state in the form of a story, mainly intended for the benefit of boys. In conclusion, let me add that I always look back to King William's College with sincere affection, and that I should have the fullest confidence in recommending it as a place of education for any boy in whom I was interested. It has trained many good and able men, and has no need of any defence from me. Indeed, it would be presumption in me to write about it at all, were it not for the circumstances which I have mentioned, and which seemed to call for some notice from me.

Yours, &c.,

Society, having been placed in the hands of the Council by his Lordship, with the following letter :—

KNOWSLEY, JANUARY 19th, 1861.

SIR,—In the course of partially re-arranging the libraries here, I have come upon the volume, the title of which I enclose ; and as it occurs to me that its contents may be of interest to the resident members of the Manx Society, and perhaps available for some of their future publications, I shall be happy to lend you the volume, and authorize you to make such use of its contents as you may think fit, in the interest of the society. On receiving your answer, I will send it over in such manner as you may advise. I shall of course look to you for its safe return in due time ; and as it is rather in a dilapidated condition, I must beg that it may be carefully dealt with, and not exposed to any farther injury than it has already sustained.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

DERBY.

J. R. Oliver, M.D., Hon. Sec. Manx Society.

THOMAS BUSHELL.—1648. (MS.)

“It then containeth divers Ordinances, Statutes, and Customs, presented, reputed, and used for Laws in the Isle of Man, that were ratified, approved, and confirmed as well by the Honourable Sir John Stanley, Knight, King and Lord of the same land, and divers others, his predecessors, as by all barons, deemsters, officers, tenants, and inhabitants of the same land.”

The above is given as the title of this MS. by Mr. Townley in his “Journal,” 1789-90, and which he supposes was written by a Welsh Justice. He has given copious extracts from it in his 2nd volume. The MS. then belonged to Mr. James Oates of Douglas. Feltham, in 1798, states it to be in the possession of Mr. Moore of Douglas. The Author appears to have sought the shelter of the Island during the troubles occasioned by the Civil Wars, when, says he, “wearied with being so often awakened at midnight by the King’s and Parliament’s Troops, both equally feared because equally plundering, I resolved to banish myself for a time to the Island of Man where divers nobility had been banished by our Kings.” It is said to be written by Thomas Bushell.

MS. by Mr. BLUNDELL, of Crosby.—During the Civil Wars.

“This gentleman employed his leisure hours in collecting the History and Antiquities of the Isle of Man, and by his MSS. which I have seen, gave posterity the clearest and most correct account of it."—Seacome, p. 487, Ed. 1793.

MS: 1660-72:

In possession of M. H. Quayle, Esq., Clerk of the Rolls. Written by an unknown Author retired here from the troubles occasioned by the Civil Wars. The Rev. J. G. Cumming considers this to be Mr. Blundell's original MS., and the one made use of by both Sacheverell and Seacome: I have not been able to see this MS.

MS.—1422 to 1703.

Containing 108 Acts of the Manx Legislature anterior to the accession of the Atholl family, and which have been kept in Castle Rushen. This MS: contained much interesting information no where else to be found. Vide Memoirs of Train, p: 133, 1857.

Deemster PARR.—1696-1712.

An Abstract of the Laws, Customs, and Ordinances of the Isle of Mann."

John Parr held the office of Deemster from 1696 to 1712. Various copies of this Abstract, which has never been printed, appear to be in existence. It contains much valuable information as to the state of the Law in his day.

ALEXANDER ROSS.—1744-53: (MS.)

Mona; or the History, Laws, and Constitution, Ecclesiastical and Civil, of the Isle of Man, verified by the Records of the Island, and thence extracted by the application, care, and diligence of Mr. Alexander Ross, of Grey's Inn, Gent.

Mr. Ross died in the year 1753. Copied from the original for the use of E. Umfrevill; now in the hands of George Tollet, Esq., Betley Hall, Staffordshire." The above is from Townley's "Journal," 1789-90, where he states that the MS. then belonged to Mr. Oates of Douglas.

Mr. Tollet, now of Wickstead, Nottinghamshire, in a letter to Paul Bridson, Esq., Hon. Sec. to the Manx Society, in the year 1857, declines to allow the Society to publish Mr. Ross' MS.

MS. in Two Volumes of a Vocabulary or Dictionary of the Manx Language. By the Rev. John Kelly, LL.D., of St. John's College, Cam., Vicar of Ardleigh in Essex.

In the College Library, Castletown.

MS. Triglott Dictionary, by the Rev. John Kelly, LL.D., containing a Vocabulary of the English, Manx, Irish, and Gaelic Languages.

In the College Library, Castletown.

1000 to 1805.

MS. History of the Isle of Man, written by the late Rev. Wm. Fitzsimmons, Episcopal Minister of Carubber's Close, Edinburgh; a native of the Island. In the possession of Richard Quirk, Esq., Receiver General.

MS. on Manks Antiquities, &c. In the Library of the Society of the Antiquaries of Scotland, Edinburgh. Communicated by Mr. Oswald, of Douglas, 1823, &c.

1843.

MS. Account of Manks Customs, collected for Train's Historical Account of the Isle of Man. By a Native of the Island. (Mr. P. Curphey.) 1843.
